SERVICE ACADEMY NOMINATIONS SUMMARY

One of my most important responsibilities as your Congressman is to nominate young men and women for admission to our country's service academies. The following summary is a brief overview of the selection process that you are now entering.

Admission to one of the service academies is a two-tiered process. First, the candidate must meet the minimum standards for admission set by the academy itself. These standards include, among others, medical and scholastic qualifications. The second tier is the nomination process.

An individual must achieve both - meet the admissions requirements of the academy as well as receive a nomination - in order to gain admission to the academy.

Applicants should direct any questions they may have regarding the academy admissions process to either the admissions office or to the academy's Northwest Ohio liaison officer. Once you have returned your application to the Port Clinton office, we will forward the names and addresses of the liaison officer for the academies of your interest to you.

U.S. Air Force Academy
U.S. Military Academy (West Point)
U.S. Naval Academy (Annapolis)

The President, the Vice-President, U.S. Senators, and Members of Congress have the authority to nominate persons for admission to the Air Force Academy, West Point, and Annapolis.

As Congressman, I am entitled to fill five vacancies at each academy. These vacancies are "charged" to the Fifth District. I may only nominate young men and women to a specific academy when a vacancy occurs in one of these charged slots, either by reason of graduation or withdrawal.

This distribution insures that our district will have the opportunity to fill at least one vacancy each year. That means that every graduating high school senior can compete for admission to each academy in every given year. It is in the best interests of the district to spread out the charged slots at each academy.

When a vacancy does occur, I may nominate up to ten candidates for admission to the academy. When I submit our district's ten nominees, the academy's admissions board will rank them according to objective standards (i.e., scholastic achievement, athletic achievement, etc.), and will then offer admission to that nominee who ranks highest among the ten that I have submitted.

The other nine nominees, assuming that each meets the minimum requirements for admission to the academy, are then placed in a qualified candidate pool. After every district's charged slots are filled, the academy will then look to those nominees in the qualified pool to fill the remaining slots.

Depending on the quality of nominees we submit, several more Fifth District residents could receive appointments in the same year. In the past, our district's nominees have done well. Although we are only entitled to five slots at each academy, the Fifth District has consistently been represented by more than double our number of charged slots.

My goal as Congressman is to have as many young men and women from our district admitted as possible. The only way to accomplish that is to nominate high quality committed candidates to each academy.

U.S. Merchant Marine Academy

Unlike the other academies, the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy uses state quotas rather than district quotas.

The State of Ohio is entitled to eight slots in each admissions class. Each Congressman may submit up to ten names per year. These nominees then compete against all other nominees from Ohio for the eight slots.

After Ohio's eight slots are filled, those remaining Ohio candidates who meet the minimum admissions standards for the academy are placed in a national pool of candidates. Several states rarely fill their allotments, so Ohio usually has additional candidates admitted beyond our allotment of eight.

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Congressional nominations are not incorporated into the admissions process for the United States Coast Guard Academy. Further information regarding admission to the Academy may be obtained directly by calling the Academy's Admissions Office at 860-444-8500.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION SELECTION POINTS

Applicants should keep the following points in mind as they proceed through the service academy application process:

1. A congressional nomination is only half of the process. Applicants are required to notify the academy of their interest and to work within the academy's admissions system.

Unless an applicant is making significant progress to fulfill the application requirements of the academy itself, that candidate may not be given full consideration for a nomination.

2. Each time materials are forwarded to the Port Clinton office for the applicant's file, the applicant will receive confirmation of what was received as well as a list of those items still needed to complete the file.
3. All correspondence regarding a service academy appointment should be addressed to:

The Honorable Paul Gillmor
ATTN: Service Academy Nominations
120 Jefferson Street, 2nd Floor
Port Clinton, Ohio 43452

4. Questions regarding the admissions process for the academy should be directed to the Northwest Ohio liaison officer for the academy of interest.
5. Applicants should be mindful of two deadlines: applications should be postmarked no later than September 30, 2001; additional materials (references, high school transcript, applicant's statement, ACT/SAT scores) should be postmarked no later than October 15, 2001.

If you anticipate a problem meeting these deadlines, please write to the address listed above or call Congressman Gillmor's Port Clinton office at 800-541-6446.
